1. Introduction

From a country that lived in its villages, India is gradually acquiring an urban character. This is evident from the fact that the growth rate of urban population at 6% over the last decade has far exceeded that of rural population at 3.4%. In the next 2 decades the urban population is expected to increase from the present 37.8 crores to 60 crores. The latest census data reveals that India's urban growth is taking place in and around 7,935 towns and cities spread across the country.

In comparison to other states of the country, as per 2011 census Odisha is one of the low urbanized states, but is witnessing a high growth rate of urban population. This growth is taking place in peri-urban areas in informal settlements known as slums. There are 2919 slums in Odisha with a population of more than 4.12 million. These settlements often lack basic land tenure rights and access to basic services, such as clean water, sanitation, proper road and drain facilities, electricity and street lighting.

Residents of informal settlements are also at risk of forced evictions without notice or compensation.

Realizing the need to recognize the rights of the informal settlements and the need to confer land titles upon the slum households, the Odisha State Government enacted a landmark legislation, The Odisha Land Rights to Slum Dwellers Act 2017. As per this legislation, the slum dwellers in slums of medium and small cities ((Municipalities and Notified Area Councils (NACs)) became entitled to heritable and mortgageable land rights for residential use. The legislation is the first of its kind in India and marks a major policy shift by the Odisha government, as it seeks to settle slum dwellers on the land they currently occupy - rather than viewing them as 'encroachers'. It also recognizes the significant contribution of slum dwellers to the economy and to future growth by ensuring inclusive development for all residents.

However, the overall goal is not merely just to issue certificates of land rights to slum dwellers. Though a crucial task in itself, the project looks at land rights as an entry point for transforming existing slums into livable habitats. The land rights program was expanded with a mission called Jaga Mission or Odisha Liveable Habitat Mission, to bring about the transformation of existing slums into livable habitats with provision of all essential civic urban infrastructure including roads, drainage, sewage systems, individual household toilets (IHHL), smart LED street lights, 24x7 piped water supply for households, common work sheds, open space development, Play equipment for children, recreational avenues for elderly and all age-groups etc.

From the initiation of this project, slum communities were involved in the project as major stakeholders. Slum Dweller Associations were formed in different slums to participate in the process of planning and decision making. Number of community mobilization activities and capacity building programmes were organized to ensure their participation in the project. Some of them opened their bank accounts and acted as implementing agency for execution of different urban development projects. However, in number of slums these Associations need to be reorganized, their capacity needs to be built continuously for actively participating in the need assessment exercises, planning and monitoring slum upgradation activities. Further, it is also required to strengthen the SDA towards Community Governance, partnering with city administration on various development works and civic participation.

2. Scope of work

The Jaga Mission Activities are being implemented across all 114 urban areas in 30 districts of Odisha covering 2919 slums. At the city level (ULB level) there is a team function for execution of activities under Jaga Mission.

The current scope of work includes for two cities only as part of the piloting phase. The cities are Bhubaneswar and Cuttack. Based on success of the program will be up scaled to other cities.

The representatives of the Resource organizations (RO) need to closely collaborate and act as a part of the team. However, the specific responsibility of RO will be to mobilize the slum communities and activate the Slum Dweller Associations (SDA), develop a system for maintenance of records and provide handholding support for opening of bank accounts, enabling them to function as a grassroots level organization independently. Within two months of on boarding the RO is to organize at least two Large Group and two Focus Group discussion in each slum of the assigned city and form/reorganize the SDA. The representatives of the ROs will be trained thoroughly by the state team on formation of SDAs and points of discussion in the community meetings.

During next two months the ROs will organize at least four rounds of capacity building programmes for the key functionaries of SDAs as per approved training modules. This will enable the SDAs to develop local level plans and participate in urban development initiatives. During this time the RO will facilitate the SDA in participating in Slum upgradation activities and collaborating as Implementing Partner in the field execution, under various initiatives of Central/State Government and other related opportunities. Further, the RO will continue handholding support to the SDAs to prepare documents for slum upgradation activities, interface with different stakeholders and initiate process for slum de-listing. Minutes of all meetings and all processes as per standard operating procedure (SOP) will be documented by the SDA with support from the RO.

In the last two months, RO will organize at least four rounds of capacity building programmes to strengthen the capacities of the SDA towards keeping the SDA functioning (post de-notification of slums) and engaged in activities related SDA administration and welfare of the community, maintenance and management of community assets, build SDA's decision-making and conflict management abilities and continued participation and partnership with the ULBs in the various initiatives of Central/State Government and other related opportunities.

For all above activities the RO is to depute human resources who will continue for this specific work at least for six months. Normally change of human resources will not be allowed. In exception, the new person needs to be thoroughly trained on the issue. The ROs will be responsible for community mobilization, building trust and gain confidence of urban poor in slums and strengthening their Association to take collective actions at the city level.

The following are the 5 main capacities that need to be built in SDAs

The specific responsibilities of the RO will be to ensure that the field staffs engaged are fully trained to carryout assigned activities, provide feedback and coaching, and are gifted with a delivery mind set. Besides that, the RO is:

- To procure and retain quality professional staff.
- Provide technical and managerial support to ensure effective implementation of projects in designated cities.
- Report on progress of activities and coordinate closely with the ULB and Jaga Mission in the discharge of the roles and responsibilities as per agreed terms.

4. Reporting and documentation

Inception report: ROs are expected to submit an inception report within 15 days of getting the assignment. Inception report must include analysis of the situation (existing slums, number of SDAs, status of bank account and capacity building needs), details of RO staff structures, work Plan- including a) an activity schedule b) a training plan containing number of batches, participants, training calendar. The inception report should also include the strategy/ activities to achieve the milestones outlined in the scope of work. The work plan has to be developed in consultation with concerned ULB Jaga Team.

Monthly reports in the agreed format need to be shared by ROs with respective ULB and Jaga Mission. Jaga Mission and ULB jointly will monitor the progress of programme implementation and interact with the agency to ensure that the program falls within the schedules and agreed timeline.

Final Report on the support including formation, hand holding support to slum communities and SDA, capacity building and slum upgradation need to be submitted by 6th month of engagement.

5. Performance Assessment:

Fortnight performance assessment will be conducted to evaluate achievement obtained by ROs to the desired objective and scope of the work. The evaluation will include the progress vs timeline, quality of training and capacity building, innovation and scale of impact, along with other related deliverables.

The allotment of SDAs to ROs (mapping) will be provisional, ideally mapped in a contiguous manner (geographically) and allotment will be revised (increased or decreased) subject to performance assessment.

Feedback on performance will be provided to the ROs. In case of performance at a scale of average or below average, for more than two consecutive appraisal periods, the Consultancy Monitoring Committee (CMC) may notify on de-scoping to the RO as per the terms of the contract.

In case of performance at a scale of high or outstanding, throughout the period of engagement, the Consultancy Monitoring Committee (CMC) may extend the RO the scope for empanelment for additional cities.

6. Eligibility of Resource Organizations:

Strengthening of the capacities of Slum Dwellers Associations (SDAs) through a process of capacity building, resource mobilization, skill enhancement etc. is the key to empower and mainstream slums into the city lifeline (through their upgradation and transformation) and making SDAs, an integral part of the city development, across 114 ULBs in Odisha. In this connection it is important to mention here that 2,919 SDAs have already been formed and promoted for active participation. Now the time has come to further mobilize, activate and strengthen all the 2919 SDAs of the state, through inputs and support, so that it leads to the emergence of active and empowered associations that can work towards the welfare of their community on one hand and partner with the Government towards enhancing the civic strength of the cities. In this light, Jaga Mission, Housing and Urban Development, Govt of Odisha has decided to open up a bidding process for selection of Resource Organizations and a brief of their eligibility criteria is given as Annexure V:
